(September 7, 2009) As we all know, gold plays an essential role in the game. If you're a wow player, and you want to make as much wow gold as you can immediately, then here are some good suggestions which may be helpful to you: you can buy some big bags as soon as you can. Even at level 1 or 2, make sure you have four bags with as many slots as you can afford. If you have a higher level character on the same server, save all your old bags for your new character. The more bag space you have, the longer you can farm without having to sell. The longer you can farm, the more items you can receive. To start out with, at level 5, pick two gathering professions. They can include: herbalism, mining, and skinning. Go around gathering all the plants, minerals, or skins that you can and sell them at the auction house. You can move on to enchanting, leatherworking, blacksmithing, tailoring, or jewel crafting later on. But for the time being, stick with gathering and selling. Save all the green, blue, and purple items you get from drops and disenchant them whenever you decide to take up enchanting. A lot of dust and other enchanting materials can be sold for a lot of wow gold at the WoW auction house. It is well known that farming wow gold is really a boring job. It is really a waste of time and energy.

Here I have another good suggestion to you: you can buy cheap wow gold for powerful weapons and equipments on wow. You must have heard about world of warcraft gold store. These wow gold store is selling wow gold for players who don't have enough time but need a great amount of wow gold. They can pay USD or EUR or GBP at the wow gold store, then they can get cheap wow gold just in a few mins. As we all know, there are so many scams online. So some sites which have the cheapest wow gold may be rip-off sites. If you are in a hurry to find a cheapest wow gold selling sites, I think you should pay attention to their reputation. If I buy wow gold from online sites, I think three main factors I should consider: the price, the safety and the speed.
